

RESURRECTION HYMN

W. H. Monk

With energy

1

Christ, you came to greet them
on that Easter day.
Your disciples searching where your body lay
found the dark tomb empty, grave clothes lying there;
they, uncomprehending,
fled in dark despair.

2

Anxious, lost, bewildered, numb with grief and care, Jesus' friends were gathered –
then their Lord was there, silent as the sunrise
after darkest night;
though they did not know him,
doubts were put to flight.

3

Later, near Emmaus,
Jesus reappeared;
walked the journey with them,
questioned what they feared;
burdened minds were lightened,
hearts within them burned;
then came comprehension –
Jesus had returned.

4

Christ, you come to meet us
on this Easter day.
Joyfully we greet you,
doubts are rolled away.
May we know and love you,
look to you as Lord,
gather others to you,
faith and hope restored.
